

Our mission is to support climate action in the workplace

- We are a Nonprofit consultancy engaging employees in planet action.
- We set up new internal structures to drive sustainability and innovation from within.
- We offer new purpose, meaning, drive and motivation to workforce and management.
- We foster collaboration and exchange between employees, both internally and externally.

What is a planetgroup?

Planetgroups are groups of employees who want to drive sustainability in their company through so called "planet projects".

They meet regularly and work on their projects in the meantime, structured by a thoroughly designed process and supported by our consultancy team.

Who should reach out to us?

Employees

We offer employees the chance to take action and have a real impact for a sustainable, stable and thriving world where the economy – and their own company – acts in balance with nature.

Heads of Sustainability

We help sustainability departments get more traction and outreach in their organization by building and facilitating a "planetgroup process" from within their company.

Leaders

We support TOP management to get everyone on board in the climate transformation, in order to drive innovation and make their company "future proof".

Our Tools

 The planetgroup process We use well-designed templates and science-based material, taking your teams through a carefully developed and inspiring journey.	 Individual counseling, workshops and trainings We offer a variety of established tools, games and processes plus individual consulting, in order to align with your company's unique circumstances and expectations.	 Our PlaNet Collaboration Platform On our collaboration platform, which we call the PlaNet, planetgroups have access to benchmark projects from other companies, and find expert insight on the solutions they are working on.	 Marketing support We give additional visibility to our planetgroups companies thanks to our Social Media and PR outreach and our annual planetgroups conference.
