We are a non-for-profit business consultancy. We accelerate the transformation to a truly sustainable and "planet positive" economy by building on the desire of employees to be part of the solution. To do so, we establish and support an employee driven structure which we call planetgroups.

We believe that meaningful jobs in thriving organisations on a healthy planet are not a contradiction. The opposite is true:

Sustainability is of growing importance to the business success of companies. Employees increasingly want their jobs to make a meaningful contribution to a better world. And the threats posed by climate change are rising at an alarming rate.

With planetgroups, we are connecting these three drivers for change.
